

Dear Chairman Powell,

I'm writing to urge you go keep in place the current restrictions on ownership. These corporations who wish to expand have already created a tedious monotony of news and politics and fiction. American citizens need diversity, and community access. And since you do not work for these corporations, you must be accountable to us, because we pay your salary, don't we?

Sincerely,

Helen McManus